Art and Craft at Stefanie's 	Contact name: Stefania Giraldi Tel: 07970 817522 Email: info@artatstefanies.com Website and social media: https://artatstefanies.com/ https://www.facebook.com/ArtandCraftatStefanies/ https://www.instagram.com/artandcraftatstefanies/	This is a fun and creative online Art Club for kids, where they can jump straight into 90+ exciting art classes and videos in our ArtLand library, with even more creative fun waiting inside our private Facebook group. Kids get FREE access to all live art sessions, held monthly, where they can draw, paint, and create together. All live sessions are recorded and added to the library, so your child can watch again anytime and enjoy their favourite classes again and again, as long as they're a member. My mission? To turn kids into confident little Picassos, using every art material under the sun as their personal megaphone. In our vibrant art room, the journey begins with their own stories, their unique worlds. Here is my secret recipe: Kids are natural-born creators, crafting incredible masterpieces with just their intuition and imagination. Art is their playground to grow, where they learn that every problem can have multiple solutions,and every question, numerous answers. By diving into a rainbow of art tools, they discover their one-of-a-kind spark and celebrate it. Art gives them a voice when words might be playing hide and seek, allowing them to express emotions with ease and flair. Watching kids shed their fear of making mistakes, and embrace their individuality through art, brings me the greatest joy and honour. In my classes, every "oops" is a chance to create something amazing... Mistakes? We don't erase them; we transform them into art. This skill is as vital in life as it is in art: turning negatives into positives. Our little (or big) Artlanders find a cosy corner here, where they're free to be themselves, without fear of mistakes. They explore, choose, and see the world through new lenses, discovering endless ideas and solutions. It's a place where colouring outside the lines is celebrated, and confidence blossoms like a masterpiece.

Aikido dojo for children and adults. Aikido is a Japanese martial art, including free-hand partner practice, as well solo and partner forms with wooden tools. We follow the syllabus related to the one issued by the Japanese Headquarters, structured into 'kyu' gradings until reaching black belt ('dan' grades). The overall aim is to improve fitness, coordination and balance, as well as learn self-defence oriented martial arts techniques, both 'free-hand' and 'wooden tool' based ones. During grading exams children have to perform techniques on their own and with a partner. Our aikido style does not include competition.

The Hundred Club 	Name of contact: Natalie Mitchell Email: nm@taco.org.uk Venues include: Various, across Abbey Wood and Thamesmead Website and social media: https://taco.org.uk/Hundred-Club-Returns https://www.facebook.com/THAMESMEADARTSANDCULTUREOFFICE https://www.instagram.com/tracey_aint_coming_out/ https://twitter.com/TACO_errr	The Hundred Club is an experimental creative space for using arts and play for children to explore social justice issues. Led and facilitated by artist Ruth Beale, and produced by TACO!, the club is for families with 6-12 year old children, and their siblings, parents and carers. Through collaboration and hands-on activities members of the club experiment and play through art and making, using these as an inspiration to imagine a more fair, just and equal society. Children lead on decision making, informing what we talk about and the direction of projects. A self-published newspaper WAAAH!, designed and made by the children, is produced several times a year. Past activities have included screen printing, poster making and eco-fashion shows.

100 Miles for 100 Years Walking Trails (including Dartford and Gravesend trails)	Contact name: Darienne Price Telephone number: 01322 259777 Email: info@kentww1.com Website and social media: https://kentww1.com/100-miles/dartford-trail/ https://kentww1.com/100-miles/gravesend-trail/ https://www.facebook.com/KentWW1 https://twitter.com/KentWW1	This is a free self-guided trail, for the family to enjoy. Kent in WW1 aims to encourage the exploration of a locality in relation to the First World War. Each trail is brought to life by images of places or people from the period. There is an accompanying trail booklet which has more details including local groups and other resources to encourage further research and the quiz is a good family orientated way of reinforcing learning in an enjoyable manner. In participating in the trails people learn more about local history, they can see the front door which was closed by a soldier as he left for War, making the person real, rather than a name carved on a War memorial. Discover the heritage of Dartford and Gravesend in the First World War by following our WW1 pathway trail, with points of interest and historical information. You can download the trails from the Trail section on https://kentww1.com/100-miles/ There are trails across Kent, including Dartford and Gravesend. You can print the trails but there is also access a free app. Once completed, contact Screen South via info@kentww1.com to receive the Learning Credits.
